

LINCOLN-WAY TO GRADUATE 1st CLASS TUESDAY

Expect Grand Jury Will Indict Grocery Bandit

The case of the bandit who was captured late Friday after he had robbed the IGA store at New Lenox and fled with $112, was presented to the Will county May grand jury yesterday by State's Attorney Frank H. Master, Jr.

There were reports that an indictment charging robbery, has been voted against the accused, Joseph H. O'Neill, 21, of 6444 Langley Ave., Chicago.

O'Neill is now being held in the Will county jail having been unable to post surety for a $5,000 bond imposed by Justice of the Peace George Williams in Joliet.

He was captured within two hours after the theft following pursuit by a posse of approximately 100 New Lenox residents, and village, county and state police. The capture took place along the Rock Island tracks, about two miles east of New Lenox.

Run Down

A blow from a club wielded by Ronald Goldenstern, 22, of New Lenox, a clerk in the store failed to stop the fleeing man but a few moments later Goldenstern and Thomas Gilchrist, 38, also of New Lenox, got close enough to grab O'Neill and they held him until police arrived.

Gilchrist is the husband of Lois Gilchrist, cashier at the IGA store - operated by the mayor of New Lenox, Lloyd Berlin - who was first approached by O'Neill when he entered the store. He asked for some jelly cake but when Mrs. Gilchrist showed him a jelly roll at the bakery counter, O'Neill said that wasn't what he wanted. What he wanted, he told her as she returned to her post at the cash register, was money. He then produced a small pistol which he leveled at her, and ordered Mrs. Gilchrist to open the cash register. She obeyed but when he told her to give him the money the cashier told him if he wanted it to come and get it.

Grabs Money

O'Neill then reached over the counter and grabbed a handful of currency and checks from the register. Still holding the money in his hand, O'Neill dashed out of the store, and fled eastward toward the depot.

Mrs. Gilchrist called to the men in the stockroom. Goldenstern ran out of the store and took up the chase. As he crossed Cedar road he saw the New Lenox police chief, Keith Hossack, and shouted at him to join the chase. Hossack was in a squad car and drove to the depot where he saw the fugitive running east along the tracks. Hossack fired three shots from his pistol but the man failed to halt, but ran into a wooded area.

Hossack radioed for help and was quickly joined by three squads from Sheriff Doerflinger's office and two state police squads. In the meantime the townspeople had turned out in force and a posse of about 100 joined with police and began to beat the woods for the bandit.

Says He Was Hungry

The hunt flushed O'Neill from the woods and he again made for the railroad tracks. Goldenstern was the first to sight him and with Gilchrist gave chase, finally running the robber to earth.

The bandit tossed aside some of the money, about $70, apparently hopeful his pursuers would stop to recover it and thus give him more of a lead, but Goldenstern and Gilchrist ignored the money and kept on until they captured him.

At the jail O'Neill told Chief Deputy Walter McKay that he staged the stick-up because he was "hungry and broke." He claimed that the pistol he displayed was only a toy and that he discarded it on his flight. The pistol, toy or real, has not been recovered. Because of that, it was said, it was not believed that a charge of armed robbery would stand up.

The grand jury was presented with two other cases, one involving Max Leitz, charged with burglarizing a store operated by Samuel Roth in Joliet, and the other against Harold Warner, charged with burglary and the larceny of an automobile. Warner is alleged to have broken into the Oldsmobile garage in Joliet and fled from there in a customer's car, after he had used another automobile to crash thru the overhead door from the inside. He was captured shortly afterwards by Joliet police.

SAYS RECENT STORMS SHOW NEED OF AREA-WIDE DRAINAGE PLAN

Recent storms in the Chicago metropolitan area once again have served as a reminder that flood drainage is an ever mounting threat which must be solved on an area wide, rather than on a local basis. It was stated this week by Kenneth R. Wells of Park Ridge.

Wells, who is president of the newly formed Metropolitan area study committee, made this observation after reports from most of northeastern Illinois showed that flooded basements, roads and business areas had once again taken a heavy toll in property damage.

Flood drainage is only one phase of a great problem extending as far west as the Fox River valley, a problem which

LOSES RACE IN CLOSE FINISH

BY MARVIN SMITH

A few miles and a pint of gasoline - was the difference between Tony Bettenhausen, who finished second, and Bob Sweikert who came in first in the 39th annual Memorial day 500-mile automobile race at Indianapolis.

The finish was that close. Sweikert was reported to have been practically out of gas when he was flagged down at the finish. Another lap, it was said, and Sweikert would have had to have stopped for fuel. Had that happened Tony Bettenhausen would have been home in first place.

But Tony isn't going in for might-have-beens. Naturally he wanted to finish in the No. 1 spot but since he didn't he is happy to be second.

Skill Does It

At the end of the first hundred Tony was in seventh place. Two hundred more and he had pushed up into sixth. With a hundred left to go Sweikert was on top and Tony fourth.

With skillful driving and a heavy foot, the 38-year-old Tinsley Park Chrysler dealer, who was so seriously injured in a stock car race last summer that it was thought he would be unable to ever race again, poured on the gas and got up to crowd (Continued to Page 2)

Complete Plans
For Vacation Bible
School, June 6 - 17

Directors, department leaders and teachers have been busy these past weeks completing plans for the community Vacation Bible School, the first to be held in Mokena for many years. The plans are predicated on the holding of the school every year.

The school is cooperative, with leaders of the Mokena Methodist church and St. John's Evangelical church working together. The enrollment is open to all children in the community and countryside of Mokena. The age range is from four to 14 grouped into four departments. The start time is 9 o'clock continuing to 11:30, five days a week for two weeks starting next Monday, June 6.

There is no other activity provided for children by a Christian community than this school. The course of study for this year will be "Heroes of the Cross." The children will make closer acquaintance with such men as Peter, Stephen, Philip, Barnabas, James, Paul and Timothy.

From the worship program to the closing assembly, all the Bible stories, visual aids, memorization, games, workbook, handwork, music and drama will focus on the biographies of these outstanding Christian men.

Enrollment is open to all children within the above age limits.

The medals and certificates have been received. The trophies will be mailed from California in a week or ten days.

These rewards were made possible by the hard work of the teacher and by the effort and willingness of the students to work.

LINCOLN-WAY TO BE SCENE OF AREA EDUCATIONAL CONFERENCE

Gov. Stratton's proclamation fixing the period of June 6-17 for "Little White House conferences on education" in Illinois, is a signal for a thorough look into schools at local levels.

County Superintendent of Schools Verne Crackel, who is in charge of the program in Will county has divided his jurisdiction into areas and in the area included in the Lincoln-Way high school district, A. Hunter Chapman, superintendent of Lincoln-Way, will be in charge.

Supt. Chapman and the principals of the three underlying grade districts - Mrs. Elizabeth Cappel, of Mokena; Miss Viola Lankeau, of Frankfort; John Oster, of New Lenox and Miss Ann McDonald of Manhattan - are conferring this week to fix a time for a meeting which the public will be urged to attend.

Key To The Plan

Those in charge of the overall program emphasize that these community of area conferences are the key to the entire plan. Gov. Stratton commends "this movement to the consideration of parents, educators and our citizens generally."

President Eisenhower started the movement rolling when he pointed out the nation's educational weaknesses in his state-of-the-union message to congress last year - the teacher shortages, the crowded class rooms and outdated buildings. The traditional American way to tackle a problem is to get the people together to talk it over, it was pointed out. That is the core of the White House plan.

The Six Points

The President and his committee decided the most pressing

DOUGHNUT DAY

Friday, June 10, has been officially proclaimed Salvation Army "Doughnut Day" in Mokena, New Lenox and Frankfort.

Residents of the community who volunteer as taggers will sell the paper doughnut-shaped tags which have long been famous as symbols of the Salvation Army's help for persons in need.

Mrs. Robert Burns, who is chairman of the drive in Frankfort, is getting eighth graders to help her.

Mrs. Jacob Barenz has been named chairman for Mokena. She urges Mokena women to give just three hours of their time to this cause. Volunteers should call Mrs. Barenz at Mokena 5142.

Mrs. Barenz has served as a tagger and location captain for three years representing the Amvet Auxiliary Post No. 183. Two co-chairmen will assist her, Mrs. Esther Hilborn and Mrs. Tony Dina.

In these villages, as in all communities outside of Cook county, 20 per cent of the funds raised in the local Doughnut Day Drive will remain there to meet emergencies or for disasters in the community, and to finance unduplicated programs of health care or other service. A committee of local residents, representing the Salvation Army, decides how the funds will be used to assist families or individuals.

Meet At Lincoln-Way

The opinion of Illinois citizens on these points will be brought out at community and area meetings and funneled into Washington.

The meeting in this area will be held at Lincoln-Way high school, it being a central point. The time will be sometime between June 6 and 17.

After the local conferences now coming up, county or regional meetings will be held prior to or Sept. 17. The state conference, involving many of those citizens who took part in the original local meetings, is set for Sept. 29-30.

In the five months since the start of the planning on the White House program, every state and territory has volunteered to take part. Literally tens of thousands of citizens will discuss the educational problems in their home areas.

Leaders predict the effects of this widespread study will be felt for years to come.

J. Lester Buford, superintendent of schools at Mt. Vernon, Ill., is to be the speaker at the first commencement of Lincoln-Way high school.

Commencement exercises are to be held next Tuesday night in the school gymnasium, beginning at 8 o'clock. Forty-five students of the school's first senior class are to receive diplomas which will be given out by Albert H. Krusemark, president of the board of education. The class will be represented by A. Hunter Chapman, superintendent.

Lincoln-Way opened last fall to serve Frankfort and New Lenox townships and a portion of Manhattan territory formerly designated as non-high area. The physical plant is so designed that it can be made to meet the growing needs of the district for many years to come.

Speaker Well Known Since the commencement exercises next Tuesday night marks a "first" in the life of the school, it is expected that the gymnasium will be filled to capacity.

In getting a commencement speaker the board wanted to obtain one of the best available and were fortunate in this respect, according to Supt. Chapman, when they were able to get Mr. Buford.

The Mt. Vernon superintendent of schools is known as the "Evangelist for Education." This was the title of a recent article in the Illinois Education magazine which deals with Mr. Buford's many contributions to education in Illinois and the nation.

In Illinois Mr. Buford has held practically every office available in education organizations, and he is now the leading candidate for the presidency of the National Education Association. The annual convention of the N.E.A., incidentally, is to be held in Chicago July 3-8.

The Program

The commencement program is to open with two selections by the Lincoln-Way band directed by Robert C. Taylor and the processional. The invocation is to be given by the Rev. Ralph Miller, pastor of the New Lenox Methodist church, and this will be followed by two songs by the Lincoln-Way chorus, directed by Betty Tryon.

Richard Keesley, an instructor in English, speech and dramatics at Lincoln-Way, will introduce the speaker.

The presentation of the class and the diplomas will follow and then benediction and the recessional will signal the end of the program. The graduates will march out as they came in, to the accompaniment of "Land of Hope and Glory" played by the band. The Rev. Erich Bizer, pastor of St. Peter's church of Frankfort, will pronounce the benediction.

An informal reception for the class will be held in the main lobby and cafeteria.

To Receive Diplomas

ASKS DELIVERY OF PARCEL POST

If the postoffice department at Washington acts favorably on the request of the Lincoln-Way high school board teachers now doubling as parcel post carriers will be relieved of that chore.

The board has adopted a resolution, addressed to the post office department, asking for delivery service on parcel post matter addressed to the school. Rural carriers in the area have enough work now to take care of their routes, it was said, without adding the school mail - including its parcel post - to their already bulging loads, it was pointed out.

The school receives around eight parcel post packages a day, on the average, it was said, and most of them are too bulky to place in a roadside mail box and while some postmen may ring twice, rural carriers don't even ring.

Under the present set up some member of the high school staff calls at the post office in New Lenox each day to pick up the packages addressed to the school.

The resolution is to be sent from the board to the postmaster at New Lenox, L. E. Brown, for forwarding thru proper channels to the department at Washington.

These honors will be presented by A. Hunter Chapman, principal.

During the program, music will be furnished by the Lincoln-Way music department. The program will open with an introduction of the seniors and their parents by Patricia Heiser. Following the introduction will be the welcome by the class president, Dale McMahon.

The rest of the program will consist of the class will, read by Henry Clark, the prophesy read by Greg Brown, and the history read by Bob Elliot.

The climax of the program will be the presentation of the class gift to the school by Emogene Anderson, and a brief farewell speech given by Marion Nelson.

Bettenhausen Loses

(Continued from front page) Freeland back to third while he took second. Fifty miles from the finish, Pat O'Connor, of Mt. Vernon, Ind., had pushed Bettenhausen back to third but not for long. Tony rode it out and coming up into second place again turned back all challenges while he himself bearing down on the front riding Sweikert.

For 76 of the 200 laps in the speedway classic, Bettenhausen's car was driven by Paul Russo, of Fort. Worth. Russo had started in nine of the Memorial day races at Indianapolis but this year his car was wrecked in the qualifying trials. Bettenhausen had driven in eight previous classics but had never finished.

Tony is well known and well liked at the speedway and thanks to this I had excellent accommodations in covering the race for the Tinley Park Times. He will be home tonight (Thursday).

Fortunately, the spot where I was assigned, precluded a view of the 5-car pile up which took the life of Bill Vukovich and injured four other drivers and two national guardsmen on duty at the track. The race was in its 56th lap when the crash occurred. The track measures 40 laps to 100 miles. Earlier than this Freddie Agabashian, of Albany, Calif., spun into the infield but escaped injury. On his 170th lap Cal Niday, a one-legged driver from Paicoima, Calif., hit the wall on the northwest turn. He was pulled out of his burning car in time to escape incineration but he suffered severe burns and broken bones, it was said.

One of the remarkable things to me at the affair was the smooth handling of the traffic and the rapid dispatch of the thousands of cars that carried spectators to and from the course. More than a thousand policemen and national guardsmen worked together in handling the cars and crowds at this event.

Offers 10 Gallons Ice Cream For Name

George Tate has sold the gas station he had been operating at the intersection of Routes 30 and 45, and is now operating an ice cream "drive-in" opposite his former location on the highway. His new place of business was opened last Friday, May 27, and is open from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Windstorm Rips Trees in Frankfort

The windstorm of last Thursday night which, following in the wake of destructive tornadoes in Kansas, Texas and Oklahoma, was particularly severe in Frankfort, where it reached gale velocity around midnight, with a deluge of rain. While there were no reports of serious property damage or personal injury, the streets were littered with broken branches and heavy limbs, which impeded traffic and at the same time posed an awkward disposal problem, as the village has no facilities for removal of debris of this kind, which cannot be classified as garbage disposal. The village was also without lights for quite an interval during the height of the storm.

On long hills you may sometimes catch unpleasant whiffs of burning brake linings. Continued braking while going downhill has overheated them. The results are shorter brake life, loss of braking efficiency and even warped brake drums. Rather than shorten the life of your brakes change to a lower gear and let the engine help do the braking on hills.

CARL SANDBURG NEWS

Recently homemaking students of Carl Sandburg high school enjoyed a field trip to a food store in Palos Heights. As it is estimated Americans spend $400 per person annually for food, Sandburg's homemaking courses attempt to prepare girls for the responsibility of handling family finances. Field trips such as this one, in which girls select foods for a balanced meal they have planned, help them to learn the actual costs involved. Miss Betty Rebeck, student teacher at Carl Sandburg, was in charge of the group with Mrs. Hilda Geuther as supervising instructor.

Now Is Time To Launch War On Spider Mites

Now is the time to examine evergreens such as spruce, arbor vitae and juniper for spider mites, according to William F. Whiteside, Cook County Assistant Farm Adviser.

To do this, hold a piece of white paper beneath one or two branches of the evergreen and shake vigorously. If several small mites fall out on the paper, the evergreen should be sprayed thoroughly with Aramite 15-W. Mix the spray by adding a heaping tablespoon of the insecticide to one gallon of water.

Now is also the time to examine roses for slugs. If foliage has been eaten, dust with a 5% DDT mixture or spray with 50% wettable DDT powder, using one heaping tablespoon per gallon of water.

PLENTY OF PROOF
Last year the electric industry again proved that it can be trusted to provide us with all the power we can use.

At the beginning of the year, the 50-millionth customer was added. The Five-millionth farm was connected up for service a few weeks later. On the very day of the incandescent lamp's 75th anniversary, the country's 100-millionth kilowatt of generating capacity was put into operation.

The taxpayer, investor-owned companies spent $2,800,000 on construction in 1954, and have budgeted the same amount for 1955. For the fifth straight year their taxes were their largest single item of expense, totaling $1,447,000,000.

Who says we need socialized electricity?

SPORTS

WILL TURN ON LIGHTS FRIDAY AT BALL FIELD

The Frankfort park board's lighted ball diamond project has been completed and the first games are to be played Friday night.

The lighting system was installed for the benefit of fans of the Little League, the Pony League and the Farm Bureau softball league.

Beginning June 8, the Farm Bureau softball teams will see action at the park every Wednesday and Thursday nights.

The games scheduled for tomorrow night are Little and Pony league affairs.

The Little League contest, in which Frankfort is pitted against New Lenox, is to begin at 8 o'clock. The lights probably will not be needed for that contest but will for the Pony league tilt to follow between Frankfort and Mokena.

The park is located in the west end of Frankfort, near Route 45 on Nebraska St.

The Little League schedule calls for two more games in June and three in July to be played under the lights at Frankfort. The dates are:

June 16 and 17,
July 14, 18 and 25.

The night games to be played at Frankfort in the Pony league are scheduled for the following dates:

June 17, 21 and 24
July 19 and 26.
